COLLEGE OF EDUCATION | THE UNIVERSITY OF UTAH

January 21, 2022

Dear Administrator:

Reading difficulties can be resolved if effective intervention is provided early in a child's school career. However, students with severe reading difficulties (i.e., dyslexia) require specialized, intensive intervention from a highly trained professional. Unfortunately, few educators in Utah have the necessary expertise to provide these services and lack the knowledge to provide intensive intervention in a virtual format.

In response, the University of Utah Reading Clinic (UURC)--with much-appreciated donations from the George S. and Dolores Dore Eccles Foundation and the Crawford Family Foundation-- has established a scholarship fund for educators to receive professional development in this much-needed area.

The scholarships are specifically designed to aid practicing educators' completion of Wilson Reading System® (WRS) Level I Certification --a highly effective intervention for students with severe reading difficulties. The UURC is in its twenty-first year of providing this intensive professional development experience and the response has been overwhelmingly positive from educators, parents, and students.

Enclosed is a description of practicum requirements and an application (attached) for our 2022-2023 WRS Level I certification with year-long practicum.

This year we have three options available for the practicum delivery:

**Option 1:* The WRS Level I certification practicum will be taught at our Murray, Utah site.

**Option 2:* The WRS Level I certification web-based practicum (ideally for individuals in areas where a distance model would be appropriate).

**Option 3:* The WRS Level I certification site-based practicum (six or more educators from a school or district, observations conducted within your district).

*The COVID virus has required us to be flexible with our trainings and observations. If the trainer feels it is necessary, we will shift to remote trainings and observations on a case-by-case basis.

We encourage all interested practicing educators to examine the Wilson® information carefully and consider making an application. We also encourage you to make copies of this letter and share it with other potential applicants. This application is also available on-line at: www.uurc.org.

This may necessitate arrangements for substitutes, as well as transportation to and from observations.

When taken from Wilson Language Training® directly the total cost of this training exceeds $2,500 per individual. However, educators who receive a scholarship from the UURC will be responsible for the following approximate costs:

Given the challenging nature of this practicum, applicants are encouraged to “yoke/partner” their applications in pairs. Scholarship selection priority will be given to highly qualified pairs of practicing educators working in the same school or district.

Applications are due at the UURC no later than April 22, 2022. Email completed applications to michele.blake@utah.edu, or bring/mail to:
